How does the Centre allocate places?

Places are offered to children on the applications list according to the Council's admission policy, which is available on request. We do not operate a waiting list. It is very important that the information on your application form is accurate as this is used when allocating places at the Centre. Please inform the Centre if any of your circumstances change.

How will I know if my child has a place?

The Centre will contact you by phone and/or post if your child is allocated a place. You will be invited to a meeting and requested to provide evidence such as proof of residence in the borough, work/study details (if specified on centre application) and income details of both parents. A place will be given to your child only if all the information requested at this meeting is produced.

What happens if I am not contacted?

We cannot guarantee that your child will be offered a place at our Centre. If the Centre does not contact you then assume that your application has been unsuccessful, but will continue to be considered at each future allocation meeting.
